

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Catholics pray for themselves and for the “repose of the soul” of a loved ones because they believe that the living and the dead are all members of the same Church. We the living who are still in our body pray for our departed souls.

L'eterno riposo dona loro, o Signore, e splenda ad essi la luce perpetua.
Riposino in pace.
Amen.

Eternal rest, grant unto the Departed O Lord,
and let perpetual light shine upon them.
Through the mercy of God, rest in peace.
Amen

Some thoughts on today's scripture

Jesus does not say these things to frighten us but to convince us of the need to be vigilant, to be prepared. The day of his coming heralds the salvation and vindication of the righteous, a day of joy rather than fear. Yet we need to watch out so as not to be caught unawares when that mysterious day comes. I thank Jesus for these comforting words and ask for the grace to lead a watchful rather than a superficial life.

Quando si chiede ad un bambino della seconda metà del ventesimo secolo che cosa sia per lui la fine del mondo, risponde in termini di catastrofe e di annientamento, così come suggeriscono la bomba atomica e l'inquinamento. Ma quando si interroga Gesù sulla fine dei tempi, risponde in termini di pienezza e di ritorno. Egli afferma con forza che il Figlio dell'uomo ritornerà; non, come è già venuto, per annunciare il regno (Mc 1,15) e il tempo della misericordia (Gv 3,17), ma perché tutto si compia (1Cor 15,28). Allora ognuno troverà il proprio posto (1Cor 14,2-3) e otterrà la sua ricompensa in funzione delle proprie opere (Mt 16,27).
