

From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners,

This being our first bulletin since the summer break, I usually start by hoping you all had a restful summer. But we are all aware of the traumatic event that happened in our quiet community on Sunday August 10th.

I have been talking to many of you and realize how deep this explosion has affected us all.

Be assured of my prayers and assistance during this time of healing and rebuilding. Our Lord Jesus Christ is the constant companion with us during this journey. The Catholic Family Services are making their office available for some of you who are in need of some counseling.

May God Bless you all
Fr. Xavier De Pinto

Today's Gospel gives Christ's step-by-step plan for dealing with someone in the community who sins. Much like a charitable intervention in a family, Jesus urges us to begin "one on one," so as to minimize the embarrassment or good reputation of the person. Only when necessary are others to be included, and then with proper evidence.

A wider circle of Christians might have to become involved, and only as a last resort is someone ever excluded from the community—and even then, Jesus' advice is to treat such a one as a Gentile or tax collector. And we know that both of these receive Jesus' healing or acceptance in various Gospel stories.

No religious order, no Catholic parish, no Catholic family, no one is without failure to live up to the values of our faith. In reaching out to those who are outcasts we must do so with the compassion and love of Christ. Only then can we begin forgive and heal.
